Behind a successful student

Safety comes first

Creating a safe learning environment is the job of everyone in the class. This means you must follow all safety rules outlined in your safety contract at all times.

Come to class prepared

Learning is a process that requires your presence and active participation. Come to class with all your materials, so you can be fully engaged. You must be in the room with all required materials to not be tardy.

Integrity is important

Do the right thing, even when no one is watching. Make smart choices.

Embrace everyone's uniqueness

Everyone learns differently. Use your unique gifts and talents to achieve the best you can and encourage others to do the same. Respect other's uniqueness as well.

No distractions

Help to create an environment where everyone can thrive. Listen to others and wait your turn. Stay focused and follow directions the first time. Follow classroom procedure so things run smoothly.

Challenge yourself

You will make mistakes, but you may not know what you can do until you try. You'll be surprised how much you learn.

Engage your mind

Learning is more fun if you have a positive mindset and engage yourself in the lesson.
